Melton asks Redmond to resign

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — School Superintendent Max Redmond has been asked to resign his post with District 9 schools.

Board President Dewey Melton confirmed Monday he had called Redmond and asked him to step down as school superintendent.

"I have been a firm supporter of Dr. Redmond's all along," Melton said. "After he brought public embarrassment to the board and this community at our last meeting, I changed my mind."

Melton said he was surprised the news had leaked out.

"It was a private phone conversation between a board member and Dr. Redmond," Melton said. "I understand it's all over the district now."

The Press-Record/Journal learned of the request from concerned parents who telephoned our office Monday.

District employees, apparently acquainted with the request for Redmond's resignation, expressed their position on the matter when both men delivered brief addresses at a retirement luncheon Monday afternoon at the high school.

Redmond received a standing ovation from the more than 400 district employees at the tea. Reporters counted six persons who remained seated, including Melton.

Melton received polite applause from the audience.

Melton criticized Redmond after the May 20 meeting of the Board of Education. It was at that time Redmond recommended hiring two people he knew the school board would not accept. During executive session, the board voted against hiring Sonja Adkerson and Gary Morgan for two district vacancies.

Melton charged Redmond with subjecting the board to public embarrassment by failing to recommend the board's choices for school positions.

The board chose to re-hire Al Kennerly and Thomas Holloway to positions they had held prior to 1983 budget cuts made under former Board President Dave Partney.

Redmond said the other two candidates would be best for the school system.

"I would have done the same thing (as Redmond)," said John Wargo, director of the Illinois Association of School Administrators.

'I'll keep doing my job' - Redmond

By Bill Milligan
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — School Superintendent Max Redmond said he will keep doing his job, despite criticism from the School Board.

A controversy between the board members that began last December has finally overtaken the superintendent's office. Causing the turmoil seems to be staffing considerations.

Because it is Redmond's job to make personnel recommendations to the board, he has come under fire for not recommending the board's choices.

"I think it's important everyone know I make my own decisions," Redmond said.

Redmond received a call at his home Sunday afternoon from board President Dewey Melton asking for his resignation.

Redmond said Melton told him there were sufficient votes among board members to have him reassigned, perhaps to a school principalship.

An opening exists at Coolidge Junior High School after former Principal Mike Sikora's transfer to the central office as head of secondary education.

Redmond said he told Melton his contract prohibited such a move.

State law requires that such moves be completed before April 1. The law also requires the school district to give "just cause" for such moves.

"For the time being, I'm just going to continue doing my job and let everyone else do theirs," Redmond said.

Concerning not making board personnel recommendations, Redmond said he has a professional obligation to recommend the best personnel for all positions.

"It's in the best interest of the school district to have the best people for the job," Redmond said.

Towery captured

GRANITE CITY — Craig S. Towery, 17, of West Alton, was captured here by police at 5:36 a.m. June 2.

Towery allegedly escaped police custody April 29 while being taken to court on charges of disorderly conduct, resisting a peace officer, battery and criminal trespass to land.

Officers went to a mobile home Monday at the NameoK Trailer Court on Braden Avenue, where they believed Towery was staying.

A resident of the home told officers Towery had been staying there but was not present at the time.

When she allowed them to look through the trailer, they found Towery in a rear bedroom closet.

He allegedly doubled his fists at police, striking Officer Jeff Parker. Parker sustained injury to his right hand and suffered an abrasion to the top of his head. He was taken to the emergency room of St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was treated and released.

Towery was also taken to SEMC after sustaining a cut to his head in the altercation with police.

Arson suspected

GRANITE CITY — Arson is suspected as the cause of a fire that destroyed a house at 2421 Edwards St. at 11:06 p.m. May 31.

The house had been vacant for two weeks before the fire occurred, said owner Patricia Gibson of 2420 Edwards St. Electric and gas service to the building had been discontinued before the fire, she said.

The blaze started Saturday night in the living room and spread throughout the frame building. Estimated loss is $15,000.

"Traces of an accelerant were found beside the home near a side entrance on the north side of the building, authorities said.

Shriner parade

PRECISION MARCHING is performed by the Arab Patrol of Ainad Temple in the 2300 block of Madison Avenue Monday night. Thousands lined the parade route to view the annual celebration that precedes the Shrine Circus, with performances tonight and Thursday at St. Louis International Raceway on Illinois 203 at I-70.

Parking approval raises questions

By Bill Bagby
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Parking will be allowed on a section of Maryville Road for one day, though a city ordinance prohibits it.

The City Council voted 9-5 at its meeting May 27 to allow parking on Maryville Road between Revere's Route and Northbridge on Sunday, June 23.

The request came from Mary Anderson of 2712 Maryville Road who wanted the parking for a graduation party for her son.

IN A LETTER to the aldermen, Anderson said, "I realize this may be an unusual request, but when you live in the middle of the block and have no place to park, what are you supposed to do? I don't feel as though I should have to ask my guests to park two blocks down the street."

Several aldermen who voted to deny the request felt granting permission for the party would be violating an ordinance which states that no parking is allowed on both sides of Maryville Road from Illinois 162 to the intersection of Ponton Road.

The ordinance, which was passed July 5, 1978, is part of an agreement between the city and the county as to the construction of the road that it would be maintained as a four-lane highway.

"We're OKing the people to break the law in a sense," said 2nd Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer. "Cars are going to be parked out there in a no-parking zone and the city is going to turn their back on it."

WHITMER SAID he has seen monetary parking on Maryville Road when parents are picking up their children.

"But even that's against the law," he said.

He feels the city may be liable if an accident would occur during the time the parking is allowed. "It very possibly can be a liability," Whitmer said. "We do a lot of things in the city we can be held liable."

"WE HAVEN'T GOT the right to shut it down," said 1st Ward Alderman Everett Morlen, traffic committee chairman.

Now that the council has granted the parking, he said it could open the door to many other requests.

"We're going to open the gate on this like we did with the (liquor) licenses," Morlen said.

The parking request was brought to the council by 6th Ward Alderman Woody Moad.

"I DON'T SEE any problem with it," Moad said.

He said City Engineer Edward Schulze has been asked to do a study on the feasibility of parking on Maryville Road.

"People on Maryville Road desperately need parking in front of their homes," Moad said.

"Some people have to park a block away from their house."

"Whether it's legal or not, I couldn't say," said Mayor Von Dee Cruise. "It's something to look into as far as future requests."

Reviews and previews

Port district OKs loan amendment

Trustees agreed to amend a loan agreement between the Tri-City Port District and Continental Illinois Bank. The bank agreed to loan the district $2.5 million in March, but its board of directors balked at payment two weeks ago. The bank's directors asked for a show of local support and immediately got it from First Granite City National Bank and First National Bank in Madison in the form of $500,000. The district retains the right to sue for non-performance under terms of the original agreement. Upon acceptance of the loan in March, the Port District let contracts to low bidders. Those construction firms are now demanding payment, but Continental Illinois has been slow in furnishing funds.

Unions request negotiations

Officials of the Chauffeurs, Teamsters, Warehousemen and Helpers Local Union 525 have asked to reopen its present agreement with District 9 schools for negotiations. A letter from Marshall McDuffy, business representative for the union, was received by school administrators in mid-April, seeking reopening of an agreement reached by the two in 1983.

District 9 posts tentative '86 budget

June 24 has been set for a public hearing on the 1985-86 budget for Community Unit District 9 schools. Copies of the budget are posted at the school board offices located at 20th and Adams streets.

Five special deputy tax collectors will start Friday morning on a house-to-house canvass of delinquent personal property taxpayers, including business firms, in Granite City. Deputies are expected to make 3,000 calls and collect $30,000 within the next two weeks. The men earn $5 a day.

Tell it like it is

Q: Should Belleville Area College implement the Life-Safety Act, a one-time tax increase, to offset a $1.2 million budget deficit for the 1986-87 school year?

Betty Blake

"I don't know anything about it. I imagine I'd be against it, but I'm not sure at this point." - Granite City

Mrs. Charles Evans

"I don't know. They're going to do what they want to, just like everybody else. There's nothing we poor taxpayers can do about it." - Granite City

Naomi James

"I sure don't." - Granite City

There was very little interest in this week's question. The Press-Record/Journal had only one other response. That was from a lady who identified herself as a senior citizen. She said she would not oppose the tax because education was important for young people.

NEXT WEEK: Should the city award contracts for services to companies without first seeking competitive bids? An example of the process was seen recently when the city awarded a $700,000 contract to Laidlaw Waste Systems Inc. without seeking bids.

Quote of the week

"Out of 11 stores in the Metro-East, 10 have liquor licenses. As far as we're concerned, it's not a moral issue. In our opinion it's an issue of free enterprise," said Richard Hamilton, of the Kroger Co. Kroger is one area supermarket that does not have a liquor license. National Super Market was recently granted a license.

Tip of the hat

Donald R. Shaffner, coordinator of Off-Campus Education for the Granite City public schools, has been named 1986 campaign chairman for the Tri-Cities Area United Way by United Way President Eric Robertson. The fall campaign will start Sept. 16.

"With Don's commitment and organizational skills, his knowledge of the community and his personal capability, we look forward to another outstanding community-wide campaign," Robertson said.

LAST FALL, the United Way campaign exceeded its goal by 7 percent. The annual fund drive provides support to local social service agencies and programs.

Board, not Redmond, should be resigning

Some District 9 school board members seem to want a "yes-man" rather than what they've got, a very fine superintendent, Max Redmond.

We learned Monday that Redmond was asked to resign by a Board President Dewey Melton.

Melton has contended Redmond is hurting the school district by not agreeing with board hirings. Redmond wouldn't do what some board members told him to do — recommend persons he did not believe were the most qualified for jobs.

What a horrible mistake for a superintendent to make! How dare Redmond do what he believes is right rather than what he's told to do. Is that the kind of superintendent this district needs?

You better believe it!

Redmond is a forthright superintendent who deserves and has public support, backing from teachers and the respect of fellow administrators. He has that support because he's done the right thing — not the politically right thing — the right thing as dictated by a man who wants a clear conscience.

If given the choice between board members or Redmond, let the board members resign.

A CHAIN IS ONLY AS STRONG AS THE WEAKEST LINK... Illinois horse breeder favors a run for the money

To the editor:

When it comes right down to it, Illinois breeders "run for the money" — and why not? Illinois offers one of the most attractive breeder incentive programs in the nation.

But with the recent reduction in the local demand for Illinois-bred horses, many of the state's breeding farms, without the stimulation of a cut in state permutual taxes, may be forced to take their business elsewhere.

That would deal a blow to the state's agricultural sector; the thoroughbred and standardbred horse breeding industry pumps about $157 million a year into the Illinois economy.

In an effort to keep Illinois breeders from leaving the state, Gov. Thompson has scheduled a summit to try to help Illinois horse racing industry. He promises to get owners, breeders, track operators, legislators and others together to come up with a comprehensive plan aimed at making the $1 billion industry competitive and profitable once again.

But until some positive action is taken, many breeders like myself have put the future of horse breeding in Illinois on hold.

As owner of a 37-acre breeding farm in Greenville and a 17-acre training center in Granite City, I am deeply concerned with the devaluation of Illinois-bred horses that has occurred in recent months.

Owners of mares in foal are not shipping their mares into the state for foaling as frequently as in the past, because the incentive of owning an Illinois-bred is slipping away.

These owners have justifiable concerns for the future of the state's seven thoroughbred and harness tracks, as well as for the Illinois breeding program. Over the past six months, public auctions of Illinois-bred horses have also demonstrated a substantial decline in value.

Without legislative action to change this state's regressive tax structure for horse racing, as well as a stronger commitment to a healthy industry, Illinois breeding will not survive. The state's agricultural community deserves better.

According to an independent report issued last fall by Killingsworth Associates Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., the Illinois horse breeding industry has an annual economic impact of $157 million in wages paid as well as goods and services purchased. In addition, hundreds of farms have evolved through the investment of millions of dollars in land, buildings and breeding stock. Maintaining these vital economic assets should be of paramount importance to Illinois.

Several breeders have already canceled their breeding programs this year at my Illinois farm. In addition, I have been forced to lay off three of my 14 year-around employees. I invested a substantial amount of money in advertising this year, expecting to get 50 to 60 breeding mares for my two stallions. To date, I only have 18.

There is little solace in knowing that I am not the only Illinois breeder experiencing these problems.

Until Illinois makes it more attractive for me to breed horses here, I'll breed and stable my horses in Florida and Kentucky. If the Illinois legislature doesn't take action, I may have to discontinue my Illinois breeding operations altogether.

Illinois breeders "run for the money" — and unfortunately, that may mean we have to run to other states if Illinois doesn't open the gates for a healthier, more competitive horse racing industry.

Park district briefs

Stan Fornaszewski's Big Band

Big band concerts planned at park

GRANITE CITY — The Park District kicked off its annual "big band" concert series May 21, at Wilson Park. Featured was Stan Fornaszewski and his Big Band in a 2-hour concert. Five more concerts, set to begin at 7:30 p.m., are planned this summer.

Admission is free. More than 100 people attended the first show. Park officials expect more for following shows.

Concerts are held near the entrance to Sieveking Gardens at the intersection of 27th Street and Delmar Avenue.

They are scheduled for June 4, June 25, July 16, July 30 and Aug. 13. Concerts will be held inside the ice rink if it rains.

Special guests on June 25 will be Buddy and Perri Moreno. Fornaszewski's special guest on July 16 will be clarinetist George Johnson.

Commission adopts employee forms

GRANITE CITY — Park commissioners May 29 approved a personnel form to be used by Park Director Steve Kessel to keep an accurate record of personnel changes.

The action came one month after commissioners directed Kessel to begin updating personnel information within the district.

Parks reinstate gate fees

GRANITE CITY — It will cost 15 cents to see softball games at Park District diamonds again this year.

At the May 21 meeting of commissioners, Garry Grandier questioned the admission fee. Commissioners agreed to discuss the fee at the May 29 meeting. At that time it was disclosed that the admission fee was used to pay for security guards at the parks.

Commissioners voted to leave the fee in place.

Phone system could save money

The Park District May 28 approved a proposal that could save $344 on telephone rental over the next year.

The savings could come from the purchase of a Merlin 410 telephone system through AT&T. The system features seven, five-button telephones with four-line capacity. It will cost $61.22 per month. The district's current system rents for $69.80 per month.

AT&T documents indicate the district could save as much as $1,000 over the next four years.

Granite City man heads county bar

Attorney Robert Bosslet Jr. was elected president of the Bar Association. Bosslet is immediate past vice president of the Madison County Bar and served as chairman of its Judiciary Committee for the two years preceding his election as president.

Bosslet is immediate past president of the Tri-City Bar Association, in which he also has served as vice president, secretary and treasurer. Bosslet is a shareholder, the treasurer, and a member of the board of directors of the professional corporation of Morris B. Chapman & Associates Ltd., 1406 Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City.

Agent saw oath given

An investigator with the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) testified Tuesday he was present on Aug. 13, 1984, when Circuit Judge Philip J. Rarik administered an oath of office to Special Prosecutor Bruce D. Locher.

Special Agent Jere L. Juenger said he and Don W. Weber, former Madison County state's attorney, were present when Rarik administered the oath to Locher in Rarik's office.

Rarik testified last month he did not administer the oath to Locher.

Juenger testified at a hearing in Edwardsville on motions by five of six defendants in a bribery case to dismiss the charges against them or appoint a new special prosecutor to replace Locher.

Juenger said that, on Dec. 10, 1983, he met with Weber, then assistant state's attorney Keith Jensen and U.S. Attorney Frederick Hess. The topic was evidence obtained by the DCI by court-authorized electronic eavesdropping the day before, said Juenger.

At the meeting, it was decided the state and federal authorities would conduct a joint investigation of assessment reductions in Madison County, Juenger said.

Concern that Weber should not be involved in the investigation was expressed and it was agreed Jensen would handle the matter for the state's attorney's office, said Juenger. He said, however, that Weber later "participated to a small extent, because it was necessary for him to."

Weber's conduct in another prosecution involving former county supervisor of assessments James W. Barton had been sharply criticized by the 5th District Appellate Court.

During the investigation, concern developed when it became apparent that some people outside the investigation knew that lawyer Robert Carter was cooperating with authorities, Juenger said.

GRANITE CITY — Authorities are investigating the shooting death Friday of a Granite City woman.

Mrs. Verna M. (Hutton) Coffman, 50, of 4837 Warnock Ave. was pronounced dead at 9 a.m. May 30 by Madison County Deputy Coroner Dick Mizell. An autopsy performed Friday afternoon determined she had been shot in the

2,000 attend two-day real estate conclave

More than 2,000 Illinois Realtors and real estate salesmen attended the annual "Spring Tune-Up" at the Illinois Association of Realtors spring conference held at Mount Vernon.

Experts from across the nation provided the program, focusing on "tools to keep your engine running at its peak" in keeping with the 1986 conference theme.

DELIVERING the keynote address was Realtor Bob Wolff, GRI, of Fort Collins, Colo., who sold more than $15 million of real estate last year and is expected to top $21 million in sales in 1986.

A popular guest speaker at national and state realtor conventions, Wolff opened the conference with a hard-driving session about "Selling Real Estate as a Service Business."

"Success: Using the Right Key" was the topic of a general session led by Realtor Lee Roy Houser, GRI, CRS, of Richmond, Va. A SENIOR FACULTY member at the Realtors National Marketing Institute (RNMI), Houser was invited to participate in the conference after a successful appearance last year.

Mimi Winter, a consultant with Career Directions, specializing in training programs for the development of human resources, led a session on "Listing: What to Do After You Get Your Foot in the Door."

Winter is co-author of a workbook dealing with assertiveness training and stress management.

REALTOR Howard Brinton, GRI, CRS, president of Brinton Co., Columbia, S.C., led a comprehensive two-part session on the conference's final day.

Gateway BPW installs new corps of officers

Newly elected officers for the 1986-87 year of the Gateway Business and Professional Women's Organization were installed by Helen Abbott at a dinner meeting at Tony's Restaurant in Maryville.

LaVelle Stephens gave the invocation and Betty Nugent led the group in reciting the pledge of allegiance, to open the session. Abbott in her opening address said, "This is a happy experience for me to install new officers who have been chosen for qualities necessary for the duties they will perform throughout the year. Members will look to you for direction during the year."

"I refer to the BPW Federation song, 'The Golden Key,' as the theme for tonight's ceremony. As the officers are installed, they will receive a key, relative to their specific duties."

Shirley Rapoff, treasurer, was given the key of integrity. It notes her duties are to protect the material wealth of the organization and perform the financial duties for a successful year. The key presented to Dorothy Elmore, recording and corresponding secretary, noted the importance of being gracious and accurate and conveying the message of the organization.

Ollie Derr, serving as pro tem for Donna Jones, second vice president, and Pat Anderson, first vice president, were given keys of office linked to opening the door of opportunity for Gateway members.

Accepted by college

Michael Arthur Ribbling, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ribbling of Granite City, has been accepted for enrollment at Blackburn College in Carlinville. Michael graduated in May, and plans to pursue a degree in music.

Abbott charged Judith McCann, president, with the message of leadership, a special key that requires acting and going forward. She was asked to lead in a way daring enough to prove what can be done, pushing the door of opportunity wide open.

McCann introduced Barbara Hodges as the first president of the organization and then addressed the group. The new president said, "Good planning is not reactive. As we enter this new year, we can look forward to excitement, challenge and growth. Our leadership, commitment and vision make BPW a stronger, more vital organization."

She presented gifts to the retiring officers and board members. Donna Kimbro, on behalf of the members, gave the president a white wicker basket holding an arrangement of purple, lilac and white silk flowers, and an engraved silver bowl from the 1985-86 corps of officers and board members.

Table decorations were in purple and white and individual favors were silk floral lapel pins. In keeping with the motif, fresh African violet plants were awarded as prizes to Carolyn Frey and Juanita Williams.

Pat Anderson, chairman of a recent fund-raising project, announced a home housecleaning prize was won by Lois Winter. McCann thanked the installation planning committee, which included LaVelle Stephens, Betty Nugent, Dee Hoover, Juanita Williams, Ruth Nichols, Barbara Hodges, Donna Kimbro and Ollie Derr.

The president displayed a certificate from the state convention, acknowledging Gateway BPW donated the full monetary amount per member for the 2012 Project Gateway was the third BPW organization in Illinois to comply with the request.

JUDITH MCCANN, right, was installed as president of the Gateway Business and Professional Women's club at a dinner meeting at Tony's Restaurant in Maryville. On the left is Helen Abbott, past District XIV director and member of Belle-East BPW, who served as installing officer.

McCann thanked the installation planning committee, which included LaVelle Stephens, Betty Nugent, Dee Hoover, Juanita Williams, Ruth Nichols, Barbara Hodges, Donna Kimbro and Ollie Derr, Pat Anderson and Joy Wofford.

'Enterprise High School' bill passed by legislators

The Illinois House of Representatives has approved a measure to create two new "Enterprise High Schools" in the East St. Louis and Brooklyn school districts, a proposal which Rep. W. Younger, D-East St. Louis, said will help kids in school and convince dropouts to return to complete their education.

Younger, sponsor of the measure, said House Bill 1236 would provide for creation of two new schools which would provide alternative educational programs for half of the school day, allowing students to work the other half day in area businesses or municipalities.

"Programs similar to this have been initiated successfully in other states, with the most successful program being in Flint, Mich.," Younger said. "The idea is to allow dropouts or potential dropouts to remain in school while earning money and gaining work experience in outside employment."

"The key to our pilot project will be that a business incubator program will also be established at the State Community College of East St. Louis to help students from Enterprise High Schools to actually start up and operate their own businesses," Younger said. "The estimated cost of this project is $1 million and it will more than pay for itself by encouraging students to complete their education," Younger said.

Three drown

Two men and a woman from St. Louis drowned Sunday at the low water level of the Mississippi River near Chouteau Island.

Ed Morton, Madison County deputy coroner, pronounced Maurice Taylor, 27, of 5925 Kenilworth, dead at the scene at 9:10 p.m. Patricia Alexander, 29, of 3722 Cook St., was pronounced dead at 9:20 p.m. and Melvin Currie, 41, also of 3722 Cook St., was pronounced dead at 9:41 p.m.

Alexander had walked to the water's edge to get a bucket of water when she lost her balance, the swift current pulled her into the water, causing a second woman to jump in to help her, assisted by the two men, witnesses said.

THE MEN ALSO were pulled from shore by the current, Morton said. A body at the site threw an extension cord to the second woman and pulled her to shore, he said.

Friends of the three drowning victims called the Madison County Sheriff's Department about 6:30 p.m. Sunday to report the tragedy. Authorities said the bodies were found about 30 feet from the river bank in water about 15 feet deep.

The Alton Volunteer Emergency Corps searched the area and recovered the bodies.

MITCHELL VOLUNTEER Fire Department members were at the scene, providing assistance and lights for the area, the deputy coroner said.

It is believed the three victims were present with about seven to 10 other persons for a picnic and fishing. Their bodies were taken to St. Louis funeral homes, where funeral arrangements were pending.

Venice woman dies after fire

Mrs. Jeanne Spiroff, 35, was fatally injured in a fire at her home at 123 Kerr St., Venice, early Sunday morning. She died at 4:21 a.m. that day, June 1, at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Death resulted from smoke inhalation and burns, Madison County Coroner Dallas Burke said.

THE FIRE had been reported at 2:45 a.m., Capt. Thomas Britt of the Venice Fire Department said. It is believed the blaze began at a wall of the kitchen on the first floor and then spread inside the wall to the second floor.

One of the possibilities being investigated is that the fire started from an electrical problem.

Mrs. Spiroff was found in a bedroom on the second floor and was rushed to the hospital. Her son, Stephen, 14, said she reached the outside of the home and then, seeing none of the family had escaped, entered the house to wake them up.

SHE LOCATED Stephen, who was asleep on the second floor. He was able to crawl down the steps to safety, although there was much smoke in the stairway, a family member said. It is thought she was overcome by the smoke before she could reach other areas of the home.

After he got out of the house, Stephen realized he was the only family member outside; he ran inside and woke his father, Ronnie Spiroff, his sister, Stacia, 11, and his brothers, Christopher, 16, and Dominic, 7, on the first floor.

The husband and children escaped and then attempted to go back for the mother, Britt said, but no one could get up the interior steps because the fumes and smoke were so dense.

MRS. SPIROFF apparently had been washing clothes in a laundry room on the second floor, Britt said. The washing machine contained water, and there were clothes in the dryer. The family sometimes washed clothes at night, it was noted.

An investigation is being made to determine the cause of the fire. Britt said most of the damage was in two of three upper-floor bedrooms, plus the laundry room and the kitchen wall.

Fireman Harold Koelker Jr. injured a knee while fighting the fire on the second floor. He was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment.

He was not admitted to the hospital but is required to use crutches at the present time.

Boy, 4, struck near home by automobile

Joseph S. Topal, 4, of 1724 Chestnut St., was injured at 4:15 p.m. Friday when struck by a car near his home. The child was taken by ambulance to St.

Elizabeth Medical Center. Dorothy E. Wheeler, 63, of 1703 Delmar Ave., said she was driving north in the 1700 block of Chestnut Street when the boy ran in front of a parked vehicle and into the path of her auto. Wheeler tried to swerve her car to the left to miss the child, but was unable to avoid hitting him, she told police.

Parish picnic June 6-8

President Joanne Waymire presided at the Sodality meeting and announced the Ladies' Appreciation dinner was a success. There were 160 in attendance at the dinner.

Florence: the Tuscan jewel

Florence, like the art it embraces, is a priceless treasure.

This largest city in Tuscany enjoys a rich artistic and historic heritage. I experienced a bit of Florentine culture during a recent tour of Italy, sponsored by TWA, Best Western International and Hertz.

To visit all the noteworthy churches, museums, palaces, squares and galleries in Florence, a traveler should plan to stay two weeks. But the basic itinerary to follow if in Florence (Firenze) for a short time should include Piazza del Duomo, Piazza San Lorenzo, Piazza della Signoria, Uffizi Gallery and Academy Gallery.

The Piazza del Duomo is the heart of Florence. The piazza (public square) encompasses the cathedral and Giotto's belltower. The Piazza San Giovanni surrounds the cathedral's baptistry, creating a central site for outstanding religious monuments.

The immense Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore (St. Mary of the Flower) dwarfs surrounding homes and shops. It can be seen blocks away from the piazza. The cathedral's shape of a latin cross is detectable only from a bird's eye view.

In 1436, about 140 years after Arnolfo's original commission, Pope Eugene IV consecrated the church. The lantern, a fitting crown to Brunelleschi's dome, was installed in 1461.

The belltower, completed in 1359, soars 265 feet into the air. It is faced in white, green and red marble and has superb bas-reliefs that some say are unequaled in Italy.

Dante called the baptistry "my lovely San Giovanni". The baptistry was built in the 11th or 12th century and is one of the oldest buildings in Florence. It is characterized by typical Romanesque green and white striped marble facing and exquisite portals. The panels sculpted to tell various Biblical stories.

The interior of the baptistry has a striking mosaic dome created by Florentine and Venetian craftsmen from the second half of the 12th century to the 14th century.

Pretty nicotiana makes a comeback

There is one kind of tobacco that is anything but hazardous to your health. Called nicotiana, it is an extremely pretty relative of the tobacco grown commercially.

Nicotiana—also called flowering tobacco—is an old-fashioned garden plant that is enjoying a dramatic comeback, say the experts at Bedding Plants Inc., an educational group that distributes information on flower and vegetable gardening.

Originally, nicotiana tended to be tall and lanky, with fragrant white blooms that unfurled only during evenings and cloudy weather. Modern varieties offer some appealing changes. Plants now are shorter and more compact, and they sport flowers in shades of pink, red, green, purple, yellow and white. If these blossoms have lost some aroma, they have gained the ability to remain open on sunny days.

The easiest and fastest way to achieve full flowering is with young, ready-to-plant nicotianas available in pots, packs or flats at garden centers in spring. The plants can be set in the garden, 12 to 18 inches apart, as soon as the danger of frost has passed. By early summer, loose bunches of trumpet-shaped blooms will rise above the broad, bright-green leaves.

Among the most popular nicotianas are the Nicki hybrids. The free-flowering plants become 12 to 18 inches tall. Nickis flourish in sunny or partially shaded flower beds and also in pots and planters.

An even shorter strain is the Tinkerbell mixture. At 10 to 12 inches high, the plants are perfect for edgings, beds and borders. Where tall flowers are desired, try Sensation Mixed. Its sweet-scented blooms also make excellent cut flowers for fresh bouquets. Domino is a popular, uniform variety.

Moist soil conditions are preferred, so it is a good idea to dig in some peat moss or compost before planting. Also add a complete fertilizer such as 5-10-5. Keep plants neat by snipping off stalks of faded flowers. New blooms will quickly replace the old until plants are nipped by fall frost.

Principals for effective tree pruning

Pruning Basics:

• Prune with plant strength in mind:

1. A croch angle of 45 degrees offers maximum strength.
2. When cutting back to a lateral branch, cut above a branch that is no less than one-half the diameter of the branch removed. Make your vertical cuts at an angle of 45 degrees. This will expedite the healing process as it prevents water from collecting in the cut.

• Jump Cut: This procedure is used on branches that are in excess of one inch in diameter for the purpose of preventing bark stripping and other damage during pruning. Three separate cuts are required: The first cut is an undercut 6 to 12 inches from the trunk, extending approximately one-third of the way through the branch. The second cut is made from the top of the branch and about 3 inches beyond the first cut. This is continued until the branch falls away. The third and final cut is made on the outside of the collar to remove the stub. The collar will then heal over the pruning cut.

• Wound Healing: Make the cut as clean as possible and rasp the rough edges. The cambium layer, between the bark and the wood, is especially important as it will produce the protective callus.

• Pruning Established, Overgrown Trees:
1. Thin the crown to reduce density and allow increased light penetration, reduced wind resistance and balance between above-ground and below-ground growth.
2. Head-back the terminal branches of the crown to reduce the crown's overall size. This should be performed in stages over several years.

• Remove water sprouts: these will drain vigor from the scaffold branches if allowed to remain.

Pruning New Plantings:

• First Year: Prune out newly planted seedlings to balance root and top systems. Thin out weak branches.

• Second Year: Prune for the future. Decide what you want: a high canopy shade tree, a solid screen, a graceful and thin specimen tree, or whatever. Plan carefully, and work to develop, in time, the best possible example of what you desire.

• If you want compactness: Trim back the terminals and leave the laterals. If you want airiness: Trim back the laterals and leave the terminals.

• Third Year and Succeeding Pruning: Select future scaffolds (higher on the tree) and remove those that are lower on the tree. Plants vary in their need for pruning. Some need a lot every year; some need only a little in a lifetime and some never need it unless injured.

Abduction characterizes Mozart's love

Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart was a passionate man. It's no surprise, then, that love is a common theme in all his operas.

"All these works center on a notion of love," said Graham Vick, who will make his American debut as director of Mozart's Abduction from the Seraglio at the Loretto-Hilton Center this Thursday.

"They explore the power or force of love. Not only romantic love, but sexual as well. Real love, not only idealized. Love is a power which can enrich a life or can ruin it."

Vick added the notion of enlightenment was important to young intellectuals of Mozart's day.

"This was a concept based on universal love, brotherhood — something that doesn't transcend but embraces all creeds. Enlightenment stressed equality," he said.

The story of Abduction takes place in a Turkish seraglio. Pirates have captured Constanza, a Spanish noblewoman, and two servants, Pedrillo and Blondie and have sold them to the Turkish ruler, the pasha.

Constanza's lover, Belmonte, discovered their whereabouts and plans to free them. The story is complicated when the pasha falls in love with Constanza.

Abduction is a story of emotions and how they deepen as the opera moves along. It also is the story of the pasha's personal growth as he comes to realize that his love for Constanza is not enough. He loves her enough to let her go, although Belmonte is the son of one of the pasha's enemies.

Abduction will be presented by Opera Theatre of St. Louis at 8 p.m. on May 29, 31, June 6, 11, 15, and 17. A matinee is planned for June 21.

Vick, director of productions for the Scottish Opera, said Mozart began with Abduction to speak the truths of his experience.

"He was 26 when he wrote this opera and at that age he was going through pretty much what any person of that age would go through. Just because he wrote a piano concerto at seven, doesn't mean he was emotionally advanced. He was just an enormously gifted composer," Vick said.

The Mozart biography by Hilde-

sheimer broke new ground by changing the public's assessment of the composer.

"Prior to the book, he was considered a gift of the gods. A serene, implacable man who lived life like the slow movement of a piano concerto," Vick said.

"He was a man who walked the earth as you and I. The music he wrote went way beyond any knowledge we have of the man and the way he lived his life."

Peter Schaeffer's play, Amadeus, and the movie that followed, gave more clues to the nature of the man. The play was considered shocking at first and was the unfortunate object of many critical letters in London papers. However, Dame Janet Baker wrote in support of Amadeus saying she'd learned more about singing Mozart from the play than from any book she'd ever read.

Conductor Roger Nierenberg of the Jacksonville and Stamford symphonies said Mozart chose a seraglio for his setting for a good reason.

"There is no better way to create a crisis than to juxtapose two different societies in which love has such different meanings such different ideals. Turkish ideas of love are very different from western ones," he said.

And music conveys ideas as no other means can, Vick said.

"I direct operas because they are a world I can explore. They provide something very intense and immediate for me. What we want to do is lead the audience to be open to respond to the music in a certain context. A way I often try to do this is to pace the piece. Slow it down."

To make a burger that tastes like you made it from scratch, you have to start from scratch.

Toss everything out. Start all over again. Whether it was the way we'd always done it, or the way everything else still does it, tough luck. The idea here is to make a better burger. Our grills were the first to bite the dust. In their place, new ones, custom-designed to cook at a lower, more even temperature. So our new burgers stay thicker, full of natural juices. Next came the beef. Some places ship theirs in frozen from Australia or South America, only to be thawed, packed into patties, refrozen and shipped again. We decided to stay closer to home. As in 100% pure American beef. Finally, to form that beef into patties, we came up with a contraption that uses about half the usual pressure, gently shaping it. Instead of pounding it into submission. Was it worth it? To find out, simply sink your teeth into our scrumptious new Big Deluxe™ Burger. Our succulent new 1/4 lb. Cheeseburger. Our zippy new Bacon Cheeseburger. We think you'll think they taste about as close to scratch as you can come without actually making it yourself. And isn't that something you've been itching for?

A different cheese sandwich

8 slices white bread
8 slices American or cheddar cheese
1 can (1 lb.) applesauce, heated
16 strips (about 1 lb.) crispy cooked bacon

Toast bread on one side. Place cheese slice on untoasted side. Broil until cheese melts and browns.

Top with hot applesauce and bacon strips.
Serve at once.
Makes 6 servings.

Sandwich kabob

1/2 lb. unsliced bologna
1/2 lb. unsliced Genoa or hard salami
1/2 lb. unsliced liverwurst
1/2 lb. unsliced boiled or baked ham
1/2 lb. unsliced mushroom cheese
2 rye or pumpernickel rolls
6 sweet gherkin pickles
1/2 sweet red or green pepper
12 bamboo skewers

Dipping Sauce
1/2 cup plain yogurt
1/2 cup spicy mustard
2 tsp. honey

Cut bologna, salami, liverwurst, ham, cheese and rolls into bite-size cubes. Cut pickles and pepper into 1/2-inch pieces.

Alternate meat, cheese and bread cubes on bamboo skewers with pickle and pepper pieces. Keep filled skewers tightly wrapped until time to serve.
Mix together yogurt, mustard and honey for a dipping sauce. Serve with kabobs.
Makes 6 servings.

An open-faced melted cheese sandwich has a sweet surprise with applesauce and a crunchy top of bacon.

Grilled lamb, veggie kabobs

1/2 to 1 1/2 lb. lamb cubes for kabobs or boneless lam leg cut into 1 1/2-inch pieces
1/2 cup dry sherry
3 tbsps. olive oil
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 tsp. freshly ground black pepper
1/2 tsp. oregano
1/2 tsp. rosemary
1/2 tsp. thyme leaves
8 small white boiling onions
1 small red pepper, cut into 8 (one inch) pieces
8 medium fresh whole mushrooms

Combine sherry, oil, salt, Worcestershire sauce, pepper, oregano, rosemary and thyme. Place lamb cubes and marinade in plastic bag or utility dish, turning to coat. Tie bag securely or cover dish and marinate in refrigerator 2 hours.

Meanwhile, parboil onions in boiling water 8 minutes. Blanch red pepper pieces 2 minutes.

Drain marinade from lamb cubes. Reserve.
Alternately thread 4 lamb cubes, 2 mushrooms, 2 onions and 2 red pepper pieces on each of four 12-inch skewers. Brush both sides of kabobs with reserved marinade.

Place kabobs on grill over ash-covered coals so surface of meat is 3 to 4 inches from heat. Broil at moderate temperature 8 to 12 minutes or to desired degree of doneness, turning and brushing with marinade occasionally.
Makes 8 servings.

Pasta primavera

1 1/2 cups process cheese spread
8 oz. spaghetti
1 (10 oz.) pkg. frozen green peas
1/2 cup celery
1 large carrot, sliced
1 1/2 cups fresh or frozen broccoli florets
2 tbsps. butter
1/2 tsp. minced garlic
1/8 tsp. basil
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup parsley

Cook spaghetti according to package directions.
Meanwhile, bring 3 cups water to boil. Add peas, celery and carrots. Cook 2 minutes.

Stir in broccoli florets. Cook about 3 minutes until vegetables are crisp-tender. Drain immediately.

Heat butter in heavy skillet. Stir in minced garlic, basil and parsley. Cook 1 to 2 minutes.
Remove from heat and gently mix in cooked drained vegetables. Cover skillet.

In large saucepan, melt cheese spread and blend in milk.
Add spaghetti. Toss to coat with sauce. Add about half the vegetables. Toss gently to mix.
Pile onto plate and top with remaining vegetables.
Makes 4 servings.

GRANITE CITY JOURNAL—June 4, 1986

New mammography method saves lives

Having a mammogram is one of the easiest, most effective ways for women to prevent breast cancer. Harold Lasky, M.D., a board certified radiologist from Chicago, below discusses the benefits of mammography, and a new program to broaden its use. Dr. Lasky is a past president of the Illinois Radiological Society, the chairs the 1986 Illinois Cooperative Mammography Screening Promotion.

Many deaths due to breast cancer can be averted if the condition is detected early enough. But while technological advancements are helping physicians diagnose breast cancer earlier than ever before, not enough women are taking advantage of them.

Mammography is now the state-of-the-art method for detecting breast cancer. It can detect cancer years before lumps can be found by a physical examination. However, while mammography is widely available, including at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Granite City, only about five percent of Illinois women are using this examination.

To promote interest in mammography screening, the physicians of Illinois are trying to lead by example. The Illinois State Medical Society (ISMS) has joined with the state division of the American Cancer Society (ACS) to encourage mammography testing.

Other medical organizations working to promote mammography are the Chicago Medical Society, Illinois Radiological Society and Illinois Society of Pathologists.

As part of the program, physicians and their families will be encouraged to have a mammogram in accordance with guidelines developed by the American Cancer Society.

Lancers edge Althoff for crown, 3-2

By Gregg Ochoa

Executive Sports Editor

GRANITE CITY — Perhaps it was fitting that Belleville East shortstop Tim Meehling carried the sectional trophy onto the team bus.

For it was Meehling's diving stop and throw which gunned down Bob Becker, ending the game and preserving a 3-2 win for the Lancers over Belleville Althoff in the title game of the Class AA sectional held Monday at Varsity Field.

"Tim's played short for about half the season and just keeps getting better each game," said Lancers coach Larry Patton. "If you don't get plays like that in a game such as this, you can't expect to win."

Also, if you don't get pitching, your chances are very slim.

Senior Rich Lockwood (11-2) provided Belleville East with the pitching, limiting the heavy Althoff bats to three hits — all singles.

"An unbelievable game," Patton said. "It's one of his best of the year."

Lockwood struck out five and walked five. It was his second win in a sectional championship. He also won last year's title game in Granite City.

But it was another pitcher, designated hitter Sam Lance, who shared top billing. Lance, the winning pitcher in East's semifinal win over Edwardsville, smacked a one-out hit to left in the third inning, scoring Bob Spory with the eventual winning run.

"They have been taking turns all year in picking us up," Patton said.

The sectional title for East was the school's fifth, and the second straight. Patton's teams also advanced to the state tournament in 1975, 1977, 1978 and 1985.

East, which advanced to the semifinals a year ago, has now won 16 in a row and are 29-7. The Lancers will play Thursday at 11:30 a.m. against East Moline. The state tournament will be at LaPlacer Park in Springfield.

Patton said the team's fortunes changed 15 games into the season. The Lancers had a record of 9-6.

"One week we got kicked by East St. Louis and Cahokia beat us in a doubleheader," Patton said. "I think that really woke us up. This is virtually the same group that took us to state last year. I think we were a little overconfident, and then when things started going bad, we were a little tense."

Patton said Lance would get the call to pitch on Thursday in the first round.

On Monday, Althoff scored first, getting a run in the second inning. Designated hitter Matt Frazier walked. Todd Marchand reached on an error, allowing Frazier to go to third. He scored on Juan Cox's groundout.

Althoff went ahead 2-0 in the third inning. Becker drew a leadoff walk and Joe Bauer singled him to third. Becker scored on Greg Ittner's grounder to second.

Belleville East, trimmed the lead to 2-1 in the fourth inning.

Lance stroked a leadoff single and third baseman Kevin Hagarty lined a single just inside the first base bag, scoring Lance.

East then went ahead for the first time in the game in the fourth.

Jim Sinovic legged out an infield hit. Spory then laced a one-out triple to center field that scored pinch-runner Randy Schmidt and tied the score at 2-2.

After a walk to Rick Schroeder, Lance drilled a 2-1 pitch into left, giving Belleville East the lead.

The Lancers threatened to blow the game open in the sixth. Brian Gibson singled and went to second on an error by Althoff second baseman Mike Haggie, who couldn't hold on to a relay from Marchand. As a result, Spory reached first on the play.

However, Althoff pitcher Mike Vogt got Schroeder to bounce to first and fanned Lance to end the inning.

On the other hand, Lockwood was in control. After the third inning he allowed just two base runners. Lockwood retired the last seven batters he faced.

Althoff to just three hits just goes to show what a great game Rich pitched," Patton said.

"He pitched like a couple of storms. But Rich seemed to get stronger in the late innings. I talked to him after the fifth inning and he said he wanted to hold an explosive team like Althoff to just three hits just goes to show what a great game Rich pitched," Patton said.

LANCING THE TIGERS: Belleville East pitcher Sam Lance circles the bases (left) after hitting a two-run homer in the Lancers' 3-0 win over Edwardsville Saturday at Varsity.

GRANITE CITY — Now think about it. You're a pitcher called on to win a big game for your team. You have the chance to get your team to within one win of the state tournament. What's the best way to guarantee a victory?

Sam Lance of Belleville East had it all figured out Saturday. If you pitch a shutout and hit a home run, after all, how can you lose?

Lance did just that for the Lancers by tossing zeros at Edwardsville for seven innings, allowing only three hits, and providing all the offense he needed with a two-run homer in the second inning to propel East to a 3-0 win over the Tigers in the semifinals of the Edwardsville: Fayallat 1B; Sirtak 1B; Lockett 1B; 1P-Burns 9th inn.; 30-0; BB-3; 10-15.

Belleville East: Richter 1B; Spory 1B; Lance 1B; 2RH; WP-Lance 7th inn. 3; 30-0; BB-2; 10-1.

Granite City Class AA Sectional at Varsity Field.

The triumph moved the Lancers (28-7) into Monday's sectional title game against Crosstown rival Belleville Althoff (23-7) (see related story).

The Crusaders knocked Carbonade starter Chad Vogt out of the game in the first inning as they piled up 15 hits en route to an 8-3 win over the Terriers in Saturday's second game.

Lance, a senior, is now 10-1 on the year. He was in trouble in only the third and seventh innings. An error and an infield hit put runners at the corners with two outs in the third, but he got Chris Burns to fly out to right field.

In the seventh, Edwardsville loaded the bases with nobody out against a tiring Lance, but he reached back for just a little more and struck out the next three batters to preserve the shutout.

"He doesn't seem to get weaker as the game goes on," said Lancers coach Larry Patton. "Endurance is Sam's strong suit. He could probably go 10 or 11 innings if he had to."

Edwardsville coach Tom Pile, who saw his team finish at 22-14, saw five key plays in the game.

The first came on the opening play of the game, when Tiger speedster Tom Fayallat burst back to Lance. The throw to first baseman Jim Sinovic was high, and Fayallat collided with him at the bag. The umpire, however, ruled Sinovic came down with the ball on the base. Pile wasn't so sure.

"If we get the call there, Sirtak's hit probably gets us a run, and we're ahead," Pile said. Instead, Bob Sirtak collected his seventh straight postseason hit leading off the second, but he was stranded.

SIUE to host tennis camps

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville tennis coach Bob Meyers has announced the dates for the 1986 U.S. Tennis Association St. Louis District Summer Tennis Camps.

The camps, which are scheduled to begin June 9 for boys and girls ages 10-17 and for adults, are open to both resident or day campers.

There will be three resident and three commuter camps for juniors ages 10-17. The resident camps will be held June 16-20, June 23-27 and July 7-11. The first commuter only session will be held June 9-13, while the other two commuter sessions will take place June 30-July 3 and July 28-Aug. 1.

Along with the six junior camp sessions, there will also be three evening commuter camps for adults, as well as one weekend camp. The first evening session is scheduled June 9-12, while the other two sessions will be held June 30-July 3 and July 28-31. The weekend camp will be June 28-29.

In addition to the player instruction camps, Meyers will also conduct a coaches clinic Aug. 9-10 that will focus on various fundamentals of team tennis coaching.

While tennis instruction will be the main ingredient of the camps, campers will also enjoy sessions in the air-conditioned Vidalaben Center for Health, Recreation and Physical Education, as well as use of the Tower Lake recreational areas. Resident campers will be housed in the University's Tower Lake Apartments, which include a living room, dining room, bathroom, kitchen and two bedrooms. Each apartment will house four campers.

As a camp bonus, any junior camper attending any of the camps will receive free entry to any one of the USTA Junior Tournaments held this summer at SIUE.

Costs of the five-day camps for boys and girls are set at $205 for resident campers and $150 for commuter day campers. Costs for the evening adult sessions are $50 per week. The cost of the adult weekend camp is $100 for residents and $90 for commuters.

For additional information about the camps, or to receive an application form, contact the SIUE Athletic Department by calling 692-2871, or writing Bob Meyers, Box 1129, SIUE, Edwardsville, Ill., 62026.
